

Champagne

Where sales are concerned, Champagne exports continue to be on the up despite challenging economic times and the ever-increasing popularity and threat of more affordable sparkling wines. Whilst the UK remains the key export market, the affluent Far East is hot on our heels with luxury brands, including Champagne, in high demand.

Taittinger Reserve Brut

The brilliant body is golden yellow in colour. The bubbles are fine, while the foam is discreet yet lingering. The nose, very open and expressive, delivers aromas of fruit and brioche. It also gives off the fragrance of peach, white flowers (hawthorn, acacia) and vanilla pod. This is a delicate wine with flavours of fresh fruit and honey. Taittinger Brut Reserve, which acquires its maturity during three and four years ageing in the cellar, offers excellent aromatic potential. (1) 12%vol.

Laurent-Perrier Brut

A fresh, delicate colour. Laurent Perrier Brut is discretion itself with a pale gold colour that highlights its delicate, persistent bead. A delicate nose, and balanced freshness. Floral notes, like the reminiscence of a perfume in air, come together in a delicious harmony. This naturally elegant 'aesthete' reveals itself little by little, combining notes of citrus and stone fruits with a pure creaminess. Mellowness, finesse and freshness combine to achieve a remarkable balance, in a succession of constantly shifting taste sensations and a long, satisfying finish. (1) 12%vol.
